Durham, Thursday the 24th at Durham.
Northumberland, Tuesday the 29th at New-Castle upon Tine
Cumberland, On Wednesday the sixth of August at the City of Carlile.
Westmorland, On Monday the 11th of August at Appleby.
Lancaster, On Thursday the 14th at Lancaster.

The Assizes for the County of Bucks, will be held on the 30th of this Instant June at Wickham, according to what was published in the last Gazette.

Genoua, June 3. You have already had an account of what passed here from the 17th to the 27th of the last Month, and now am to inform you that the 27th in the Evening after some intermission the French began again to shoot their Bombes into the Town with great fury, and so continued till the next day at Noon, having in that time shot above 1200 Bombes which did a great deal of mischief. The 28th in the Evening they drew off their Galiots, and that Night their Galleys Sailed to the Westward, and were followed the next Morning by the Ships except 7 that Sailed Eastward; before their departure they sent a Shore to know what was become of Monsieur de la Motbe one of the Captains of their Ships, and were answered that he was killed by some of the Country People of Bisagno. We reckon the French shot about 14000 Bombes, of which about 2000 broke in the Air, about 4000 fell in the Sea, and the rest did Execution; There were about 120 Persons killed with the Bombes and the fall of Houses; and we are told, that in the descent and other ways, the French lost 3 or 400 men. The French Prisoners we took, have been restored to their Liberty, and have had Money given them to carry them out of the Territories of this State. The Count de Melgar Governor of Milan hath been here, being received and complemented according to his Quality; He staid here only one night, and offered the Senate a farther assistance of men both Horse and Foot, for which they gave him their thanks, and told him that they wanted nothing but Maritime Forces. Yesterday in the Evening eight Galleys of this Republick commanded by Gio. Maria Doria sailed from hence to go and joyn the so long expected Spanish Galleys.

Dantzick, June 7. Our Letters from Cracow of the first Instant, tell us, that the King of Poland was gone with all the General Officers, to the Rendezvous of his Army, which was appointed to be held at Wezie on the Frontiers of Podolia; And that it was said his Majesty intended to attack Caminiec; That the Castellan of Cracow was marching with a considerable Body of men to joyn the Cossacks, commanded by General Mobila, and that after their conjunction they would march to the assistance of Petrozensko the Hospodar of Walachia, who is under the Protection of the King of Poland.

Vienna, June 8. The Imperial Troops are on their march to the General Rendezvous in Hungary, which we are now told, will not be held till the 10th or 12th of this month. In the mean time General Caprara marches with 8000 men towards Upper-Hungary, and Count Bargozzy, whose Troops are very much encreased, the Hungarians that Desert Count Teckeley coming in to him, has orders to joyn General Caprara. They write from Hungary, that the Baron de Mercy was posted with the Troops under his command between Newheusel and Barkan; That Colonel Heusler was with 3000 Horse and Dragoons on the other side of it; and that they had advice by several Deserters, that the Garison consisted but of 1000 Foot and 500 Horse, and that they were in great want of Provisions. The Letters from Poland tell us, that a Body of the Cossacks, who had advanced into the Country of the Tartars of Budziacke near the Black Sea, have lately obtained a very great advantage, but do not give us the Particulars.

Linitz, June 10. The last Letters from Hungary give an account that the Duke of Lorrain was come to Nitria within two Leagues of Newheusel: and that that place continues very closely blocked up by the Baron de Mercy; that the Imperial Troops were marching to the General Rendezvous; And that Count Caprara with 8000 Imperialists, and Count Bargozzy with his Hungarian Troops, are to act in Upper-Hungary against Count Teckeley in case he continues in his Rebellion. The advices from the Turkish Territories, tell us, The Grand Signior and the Grand Visier who had resolved to remove to Belgrade to give warmth to the Operations of the Campagne, have been obliged to change that Resolution and to remain at Adrianople, by reason of the great disorder the Affairs of that Empire are in; And that the Grand Signior hath appointed the Aga of the Janisaries to command his Forces in Hungary, which it's said are to act only defensively, while their main Force is employed under the command of one of their most eminent Bassa's against the King of Poland: But these advices do not come from hands that can be relyed upon.

Francfort, June 15. The Troops of Bavaria are on their march towards Ulm. There hath been held a review of those of Wirtsbourg and Bamberg: and the Troops of Hesse are at Wetzlaer not far from this place. Prince Waldeck is gone to the Princes of the House of Saxony, to press them to hasten the march of their Troops.

Cologne, June 16. Our Elector is removed from hence with his whole Court to Bonne; His Troops are drawing together; and we are told, that a Body of French, that are to joyn them, are expected this Evening at Zulich five or six Leagues from hence. Monsieur de Tambonneau the French Resident, is likewise retired from hence, and is now with the Bishop of Strasbourg at Breuil, whether our Magistrates have sent six Deputies to confer with the said Bishop, upon what hath been proposed to them on the part of his Electoral Highness.
